

Universal Form™ Archwires

Recommended for use with Self-Ligating Brackets

The wide universal arch can be used on the upper or lower and creates the broad smile that displays the first and second bicuspid when viewed from the anterior. Perfect for use with self-ligating bracket systems. The Universal Form archwire provides all the features of our TruForce, TruFlex, and BetaForce wires with the added benefit of our carefully designed arch form.

- Perfect archwire sequencing for self-ligating bracket systems
- Precise and consistent force levels
- Excellent resiliency
- Etched midline
